CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19): LIBRARY CLOSED

March 15, 2020

As a precaution to help limit the spread of coronavirus (COVID-19) and promote social distancing, Connetquot Public Library will be closing our facility beginning Monday, March 16 until further notice.

This was a difficult decision that we did not make easily, as we understand that access to our facility and resources is crucial to the public. After careful deliberation, we felt closing was in the best interest of the public and the staff. We need to do our part in helping to mitigate the spread of coronavirus.

During the closure, members will be able to:

- Download eBooks, audiobooks, magazines & videos
- Research via our online databases

Please Note:

- All overdue fines are being waived during closure
- Any holds available for pick-up will be held until the closure period has ended

During the closure, we will monitor the situation, consult with government and health officials, and communicate any updates relating to when we plan to re-open via our website and social media.
